Dear Board Members,

As a member of the San Juan Water Agency, I am pleased to say how well my family has done in both conserving and saving water for all of Californians to enjoy. This has been a long road, and meant taking on many challenges that impacted many facets of our daily lives. The payoff was great and we met many of the expected conservation benchmarks.

For many of us the lifestyle has no longer been a requested measure, but largely a normal response to being better earth keepers, we are happy to continue these conservation concepts that reflect good use of our natural resources.

Unfortunately, we cannot continue to expect everyone to maintain these quotas as a requirement, as opposed to a nice accomplishment. We believe that a 20% percent reduction is a very reasonable and reachable statistic, but 33% is mostly unachievable, and unreasonable expectations for the general population. It doesn't do better to reach high, and expect less. Give credit to those who have altered their life style, and met the original challenge set forth by the agencies.

Please reconsider your future standards of conservation, and offer financial incentives to those who meet or exceed those given standards.

Sincerely, Donna and Barry Hacker, Granite BAY
