Hi,

I'm writing re the Los Osos sewer project, but hopefully not with the usual rhetoric. It's pretty obvious that this is all about delay. Most of the people who want "to move the sewer out of town" just want to delay the project as long as possible. And delay is ultimately no good for anybody. The sewer will cost more and there will be more pollution. Okay, none of this is news. But hopefully the State of California will not fall for this subterfuge and will stand firm on the sewer being built in the planned location rather than countenance more delays.

Thanks for reading this.

Sincerely,
