Felicia Marcus, Chair, California State Water Resources Control Board

Dear Ms. Marcus, Marcus, Chair, California State Water Resources Control Board,

I urge the State Water Resources Control Board to adopt stronger water quality standards for the San Francisco Bay-Delta. The health of our rivers is extremely important to me, the 25 million Californians who depend on the delta for some of their drinking water and the thousands of individuals who depend on the fishing industry for their livelihoods.

On average, only one third of all water from the rivers of the San Joaquin basin can currently reach the San Francisco Bay-Delta. As a result of insufficient water flow, populations of salmon and other native species have plummeted and water quality downstream has continuously worsened.

In 2013, the California Department of Fish and Wildlife recommended higher flow standards than the State Water Resources Control Board has proposed. I urge you to adopt these stronger, scientifically sound standards that will increase flows to restore water quality and the once thriving salmon fishery. Please help save the San Francisco Bay-Delta!

Sincerely,

Claire Morgenstern
