Good Morning Sari,

The March 1st meeting will be open to the public and broadcasted via webcast. You can view the meeting on the internet at URL that can be found on the attached flier. There will be a second meeting broadcasted via webcast on March 4th. The goal of the initial outreach is to receive feedback from the public and water right stakeholders on the proposed water rights enforcement policy elements. Those who can not attend are encourage to join the meeting online and submit comments to WREnforcementPolicy@waterboards.ca.gov

Thank you,
Enforcement Policy Development Team

Subject: Questions

Dear Staff,

I doubt I will be able to attend your information meeting in Sacramento on March 1st, as I live 5 hours north in Siskiyou County. Could you please share your "brief presentation" ahead of time on your website, so we up here have some background on why and how you're approaching the enforcement issue? Are you going to offer a range of options that the public could react to? What is the size of your "limited enforcement resources to promote compliance"? How can those of us not able to attend best provide comments and recommendations, as verbal input may not be possible?

Thank you,

Sari Sommarstrom, Ph.D
