

My family has lived on the central coast for over 40 years and we need to stop acting as if we have a right to unlimited supplies of water with no regard for consequences. I say, stop the excess pumping, raise the rates drastically, and have people start acting like water is the precious resource it really is!!!

When we had water rationing in the 70's there were a lot fewer people living here than there are now, and that drought wasn't even that long. The water madness has to stop!
