

a dam on the Carmel River would be the easiest solution for the Monterey Bay area. allowing for storage of the water, then the river could flow year round into the bay making the fishermen happy and the environmentalists and those of us that need the water to drink also happy. the Monterey Bay area is already starting to look like a desert with the year after year of water cutbacks we have had, and we just cannot tolerate another year of cutbacks. our area pumps all the sewage into Monterey Bay and then there's talk of pumping this water out of Monterey Bay along with the salt water .....using all kinds of energy to clean this water so it could be drinkable. we need your help. allow us to have this dam and the water from the Carmel River before we dry up and blow away.
