Dear James W. Kassel,

We have received and reviewed the ENF00179 letter that was sent to us. We would like to do everything that we can to become legally compliant with the State's Water and Resources Control Board.

In the letter the claim was made that Flocchini Estate saves an estimated $11,963 by using surface water as compared to pumping water from a well. However, due to the ground water in our area being overly high in boron we are unable to use it to directly irrigate. We are however able to dilute our well water with our pond water, at a 8% solution, without any adverse effects on our crops.

It was noted that we need to register to become compliant with California Water Code 1228. Which forms do we need to file in order to register?

Andrew Flocchini
