Subject: Thermal Curtain

It is with great disillusionment that I find the waterboard in California still trying to install thermal curtains in Lake Almanor for the mere reason of keeping the water temperature lower for survival of fish. The temperature will change less than one degree for the many miles that it must travel yet you people are bound and determined to spend tax payers dollars for political reasons. Kindly wake up and do the right thing and cancel this ridiculous political football and get down to doing something worthwhile and meaningful.

Regards,
Ken Conley
